So
you want to learn phone game huh? Well, the secret to making a successful first phone call is...don't.

More relationships have failed to go anywhere due to uncomfortable first calls than for almost any other reason. Unless you've got a voice like a singer, and not to mention the confidence, I'd say save the chit-chat for a face-to-face conversation. In its place, use a text message. It's cheap (if you have an unlimited plan) and you can send the same message to multiple people, which is efficient. If you get four numbers in the course of your day (1 at the coffee shop, 1 at the gas mall, 1 at the grocery store and 1 in the movie theater wait until after work, about rush-hour and send out the same message to all four:

where you display that you are a man of action and that you lay out plans with authority:

Expect a percentage of cancellations and reschedules, but most likely, the women will make every effort to connect with you. It's been a while since a confident, decisive and therefore sexy man has entered their life. They're not about to let you get away.
